Contract

In registering for a YPPC class session, I understand that I must be at all performances and dress rehearsals during this session. I also agree to be at all scheduled classes unless excused by the director. In case of illness or if an emergency arises, I will attempt to contact the director before class. I understand the need to learn my lines by the dates assigned and will take responsibility for this. I also understand the need to take care of our working and performing space, particularly before and after a production, and agree to help in whatever simple maintenance tasks may be necessary, including staying after the final performance until props and costumes have been returned to their proper storage area and the dressing rooms and other backstage areas straightened. Most of all, I will respect the needs of others in the class, the directors or teachers, and those who may be working in the same building, especially as regards safety, personal feelings and community and personal property, and in return, I will expect them to respect my needs as well.

Preregistration by email is recommended and will affect placement in the larger classes, but registration is not complete and the student's space not confirmed until the registration form is received.
